NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, O.—Hon. T. P. Kearns, superintendent of the Division of Safety and Hygiene of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, has assisted in organizing the State Construction Employers Safety Committee, which will direct and supervise the activities of the employers of construction workers in accident prevention throughout the state. The committee will co-operate with the Division in educating the employers to their problems and responsibilities. Employers safety committees will be organized in various localities and will meet jointly with a similar committee of workers to discuss problems of accident prevention.

State Librarian C. B. Galbreath reports that the city circulation of the state library is about on an average with the circulation previous to its closing on account of the Governor vetoing the appropriation bill for its maintenance, the library having since opened, the officers and employees depending upon a future legislature for their salaries. The county circulation has dropped off somewhat on account of the fact that little if any publicity is given to the library. People living in the country and rural communities may still obtain books by forwarding the necessary postage so that they may be mailed out.

The annual spring cleaning of State House and grounds is taking place and the care takers are kept busy all day long. Tree experts are employed in trimming the trees and shrubbery in the park as well as sawing away all dead limbs and when they will have completed their job all will be ready to do the new robes of greenery next month. Possibly the only thing overlooked has been the squirrels and if they could only receive a new coat of fur the play grounds which they use would take on an aspect of great improvement.

After April first the Bureau of the State House will be located on the corner of Third street just opposite the State House Annex. Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown announces that the move was made necessary on account of the rapid increase of the Bureau business, housed in the Wyandotte building for the past ten years, occupying the basement and a part of the first, third, fourth and sixth floors. All rooms were inadequate and in some of them, quarters more than double those used were needed. The new rooms contain 7,000 feet of floor space and if the auto license plates increase in proportion to that of the past ten years it will be necessary to add more space in a few years.

Business men of the Capitol City especially hotel managers, are co-operating with the convention committee of the local Aerie of Eagles in arranging for the state and national convention of Eagles which is to be held jointly in this city in August. A splendid program of entertainment for the thousands of visitors is being arranged and the city will be in a gala attire for the occasion as it is predicted that at least 75,000 visitors will be present a part of the time. A monster parade of marching clubs with more than a half a hundred hands will feature the activities.

INTERESTING CEREMONY PERFORMED ON THURSDAY

A few immediate relatives and friends were present at the quiet ceremony, uniting Mrs. Elizabeth McCampbell, Xenia, and Mr. Z. C. McCampbell, Plain City, O., solemnized at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the country home of the bride's daughter, Mrs. Cameron Bickett.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. L. L. Gray, pastor of the Jamestown United Presbyterian Church, and a relative of the bride. The couple was unattended. The bride's gown was a gray charmuse with accessories to match.

The Bickett home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers. After a refreshment course, and congratulations Mr. and Mrs. McCampbell left immediately by motor for California, to remain indefinitely.

Mrs. McCampbell's going away outfit consisted of a navy blue ensemble with peach blouse.

Mrs. McCampbell has been for several years associated with Mrs. Madden and Shields as nurse.

Mr. McCampbell is a retired business man.

QUESTIONS PUT TO CANDIDATES

Charles H. Hubbell, Cleveland, who is working with the Grange to seek the repeal of the Pence Law, which permits the utility companies to take unfair advantage of the consumers, has submitted a list of questions to all the various candidates for governor in Ohio.

(1) If nominated and elected Governor of Ohio, what specific steps will you take to see to it that Rural Ohio gets adequate electric service at fair and reasonable rates and charges?

(2) If nominated and elected Governor of Ohio, will you appoint a real farmer to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and a real farmer to the Tax Commission of Ohio?

(3) If nominated and elected Governor of Ohio, will you favor the repeal of the Pence Law?

(4) If nominated and elected Governor of Ohio, what specific steps will you take to get the Pence Law repealed?

Attorney General Edward Turner has been the only candidate for Governor thus far to demand the repeal of the Pence Law. He fought a single-handed fight last winter in the legislature against lobby domination.

The utility companies, gas, electric light, telephone and railroads are using prohibition to hide behind and are using a so-called moral organization to rob consumers in unfair rates.

It is generally conceded that this moral organization is being used to keep the Pence Law in effect.

There was strong pressure in the last legislature for the repeal of the Pence Law and it would have been repealed had not the Anti-Saloon League and the utility lobbyists traded support for the justice of peace bill and both combined to defeat the Pence Law.

Now that the Grange has become interested in the repeal of the Pence Law there is hope that something can be accomplished.

It is expected that the granges in each county in the state will demand of each candidate for representative and Senator how he will vote on this question previous to the primary.

Program Completed For Eighth Ohio State Conference

COLUMBUS, O.—Educators from a dozen states will be here April 12-14 for the eighth annual Ohio State educational conference, the program for which has just been completed. The program will center around the theme of "Teaching as a Fine Art."

Of the 140 specialists in education on the combined program, nearly two score are from outside Ohio. Among the speakers are the presidents of two universities, the president emeritus of another, and a distinguished European scholar. The latter are Presidents Glenn Frank and Clarence C. Little, of the Universities of Wisconsin and Michigan, respectively; Dr. William Oxley Thompson, of Ohio State; and Dr. Alfred Adler, Vienna.

The program calls for three general sessions of the entire conference. There will also be group meetings of 32 sections, each devoted to a special phase of education. Most of the latter will be held Friday, April 13. For the first time, however, they will be spread over the three days of the conference.

Dr. Thompson and President Little will be the chief speakers at the first general conference, Thursday night, April 12. On the following night, the principal addresses will be given by President Frank and Dr. Adler. At the closing general session, Saturday morning, April 14, the speakers will be Prof. J. Paul Goode, of the University of Chicago, and O. T. Carson, former state director of education for Ohio.

More than 100 Ohio teachers, principals, superintendents, college professors and deans and others engaged in education in this state will have part in the programs. Ten Ohio city school systems, those of four counties and the faculties of nine Ohio colleges will be represented.

Dean George F. Arps, of the college of education, is general chairman. An attendance of 5000 is expected.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Laura Burrell Clemans answered the call of her Master and went home Wednesday evening March 21, 1928 at 8:00 o'clock.

Her death was due to a complication of diseases which had for some years been creeping upon her. She showed in her going, as she had shown in her life, her love and trust in her Savior. And hers was truly a beautiful Christian death. She was born July 8, 1875 on the home farm on the Wilberforce and Clifton pike where her father and two sisters still reside.

At an early age she united with the Cedarville Methodist Church and was a faithful and loyal worker in the Ladies Aid and the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies.

She was married to Charlie Clemans, December 29, 1910, by the Rev. W. E. Putt and lived happily until her death.

She is survived by her husband, her father, five sisters and one brother, being preceded in death by her mother and an older brother.

A precious one from us is gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled, 'God in his wisdom has recalled, The boon his love has given, And tho' her body slumbers here, Her soul is safe in heaven.

MARY SHEELY DEAD

Mrs. Mary Sheely, 81, died at the County Home Wednesday following a stroke of apoplexy. So far as known she has no near relatives.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna Reed; three sons, Arthur, Lester and Stanley Reed; two daughters, Mrs. Anna Barlow; and a half-sister, Mrs. Nettie Phillips, all of whom have grand children.

Funeral services were held at the home at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Burial was made in the Clifton cemetery.

Burton Coming To Springfield Soon

Congressman Burton is to speak in Springfield at Memorial Hall on Friday, April 6th at the interest of the Hoover campaign.

Congressman Burton is one of the leading Republicans of the nation and his activity in behalf of Hoover will attract a large crowd at the Springfield meeting.

Last week Burton completely set at rest the story told by Willis and Brand that it was Hoover that set the price of wheat during the war. Mr. Burton read letters from four of the living members of that body who branded the story as utterly false and took the responsibility of fixing the price on themselves. J. T. Tabor, head of the National Grange, a Republican, was one of them.

KENIANS BETTER PARK THEIR CARS IN THE PARLOR

If you attend a social function in Xenia after sundown it might be wise to have the host park your car in his parlor. At any rate Frank McMillan, former Kenian, now a resident of Columbus, relates an unusual story Tuesday morning to the Herald.

It seems that Frank left his car parked in front of a residence in line with several other cars, while the guests celebrated the birthday of the host. When the host to leave arrived Frank found his car missing.

Searching the neighborhood it was discovered the police department had a car answering the description.

Mr. McMillan proceeded to the station and after he faced a pointed revolver, the officer probably thinking someone was going to hold up the police department, which might be mistaken for a grocery or a filling station.

The car was locked and the officer had it towed where it would be in safe keeping. Everything turned out all right but it might be safer if the host in entertaining would provide a private watchman to guard the cars belonging to his guests and save the police the trouble of hauling cars to the station.

FARMERS ORGANIZE FOR WILLIS CAMPAIGN

A story sponsored by Senator Willis and Congressman Brand that Herbert Hoover was responsible for the low price of wheat caused some excitement among farmers who were inclined to believe it. As a result a meeting was called in Xenia but from reports only four persons responded.

However a number of farmers later gave consent to the use of their names for a Willis committee.

Since Congressman Burton has exposed the Willis and Brand story as a canard and that the Master of the National Grange was a member of that commission, composed of four farmers, and two others, appointed by President Wilson, the story has died.

L. J. Tabor, known to every Ohio farmer, a staunch Republican and head of the National Grange, with the other members of the commission assume all responsibility and that Hoover did not even have any part in the deliberations.

The Willis campaign is in the hands of the Daugherty followers and more such reports can be expected.

Missionary Meeting and Election of Officers of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church held its regular meeting in the church parlors Monday afternoon. After an interesting program the following officers were elected for the year:

President, Mrs. J. M. Auld; Vice President, Mrs. F. B. Turnbull; Secretary, Mrs. I. N. Hamilton; Cor. secretary, Mrs. Frank Bird; Treasurer, Mrs. Lucy Barber; Martin Finney; Secretary, Mrs. Dora Kerr; Literature Secretary, Mrs. J. E. Hastings; Thank Offering Secretary, Mrs. Lee Peterson; Junior Superintendent, Mrs. Fred Townsley and Organist, Mrs. Leo Anderson.

Mr. Robert Turnbull, a student of the law college of the O. S. U., has been confined to his home this week by illness.

AUCTIONEER—G. L. TAYLOR—Jamestown, O. Phone 44. (10-28)

RAIL OFFICIALS HERE TUESDAY FOR INSPECTION

C. N. Plotner, Pennsylvania trainmaster, Cincinnati, and T. J. Harper, assistant trainmaster and Division Operator, were in town Tuesday afternoon in company with Dr. W. A. Gallows, company physician.

Messrs. Plotner and Harper were here to make an investigation of the telegraph situation.

Some months ago following a change in railroad affairs the Western Union telegraph office was moved to W. B. tower, at Wilberforce. This could only be reached by the public through the Xenia exchange and over a party line. The service was not satisfactory and upon investigation promise was made of a change but this had never been done by the company.

The company having made no effort to better things the Herald again entered a protest and Messrs. Plotner and Harper came here Tuesday to see what could be done.

We have asked that the Wilberforce tower be connected with the local exchange so that persons receiving telegrams could have them more private. The local business men and manufacturers have found the present arrangement very unsatisfactory.

Seek Reduction Of Tax Valuation On Farm Land

Based on affidavits from hundreds of farmers that their lands are being assessed for taxation on a value above their true value in money, the executive committee of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, meeting in Columbus last Wednesday, asked the State Tax Commission to investigate the actual and assessed value of farm lands with a view to reducing the share of the tax burden now borne by rural property. A report of the resolution has just been received at the office of the Greene County Farm Bureau.

Officials of the organization say that they have secured affidavits from farmers that farm lands are assessed at too high a value for tax purposes as found in recent figures compiled by the rural economics department of Ohio State University. These figures, it is reported, show the average assessed value of rural real estate about 20 percent above the actual value.

The farm bureau committee authorized C. A. Dyer, state legislative agent for the organization and grants to work with the State Tax Commission in gathering proof of over-valuation, where such condition exists, and urged the Commission to make such adjustments as would be just and equitable in view of its findings.

The action is thought by local farm bureau leaders to have resulted from the filing of affidavits, hundreds of which are being received in Columbus each week, and which were first intended for comparison with taxes of certain public utilities now seeking tax reduction.

REGENT THEATRE

What is said to be one of the greatest attractions playing the big Vaudeville and Presentation Theatres, is DAISY AND VIOLET HILTON, the SIAMSE TWINS, who make their Springfield, Ohio debut at the Regent Theatre one, solid week, starting April 1st.

The inseparable union of these charming little girls of seventeen, Daisy and Violet Hilton, is one of the human wonders of the modern world; their playing, dancing and singing a sensation in Vaudeville.

Born joined together at the base of their spines by an arterial, cartilaginous cord, they have overcome the handicap Nature placed upon them at birth. They dance and play musical instruments, walk, swim and enjoy other athletic diversions with the ease and grace of normal young women.

Their appearance in Vaudeville, is the Event of a Decade!

Rev. S. M. Ingmire was called to Spencerville, Ohio to conduct the funeral service of Mr. R. C. Patterson, Wednesday. Mr. Patterson was a member of the Roundhead M. E. Church during the time that Mr. Ingmire acted as student pastor there.

LITTLE MIAMI CO. GOES TO SALE

One of the first railroads constructed in this part of the country has been sold under contract on approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Little Miami or Columbus and Xenia, as it was first known. The trackage is 62 miles.

The Pennsylvania has been operating the road under a perpetual lease and for some years this company has been acquiring the stock of the Little Miami. The shares are $50 and the contract calls $115 a share. The stockholders have approved the sale and the stock has been deposited subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The stock has largely been in the hands of many of the older families in Greene and neighboring counties and has been a good investment.

Hearing Continued In Fight For Child

Hearing of the case of Robert O. Smith, Dayton, realtor, charging his daughter, Iva May Smith, 13, ward of the O. S. and S. O. home as being unlawfully restrained in common pleas court, was continued until two weeks from Monday.

The father claims he is entitled to the custody of his child but that the board of trustees prevents him from curing her. The father asked the court to grant a writ of habeas corpus. The girl was left homeless when her mother was killed in a railroad accident and placed in the home by the Dayton Red Cross. The action was said to be with the father's knowledge, who was at that time serving in the south during the war. Returning to Dayton less than a year ago, Smith engaged in the real estate business and remarried.

HOME HEAD IS OUT UNDER FIRE OF CRITICISM

For some time back internal trouble has been brewing over the management of the O. S. & S. O. Home in Xenia.

The official announcement of Col. T. H. Andrews resignation was not made until Sunday but it is stated matters came to a head the week previous. During the past week personal effects of the superintendent and his wife, who was matron, had been moved from the institution.

Until a superintendent is appointed the institution will be under the direction of Miss E. Jane Bailey, member of the Board. It is said that Col. Andrews will take a position in the National Guard in the mining district.

Monday experts in investigating state institutions reported that the O. S. & S. O. Home should be closed. The investigation is being made under a joint legislative committee on economy.

The report stated that the administration activities of the Home did not meet either the letter or the spirit of the law.

According to the report not more than one-sixth of the inmates are orphans, and that many are feeble minded.

Criticism is made of the proposed $200,000 hospital which the legislature provided and it is termed "unjustifiable." Many other improvements were financed by the legislature.

The management of the Home has been the subject of criticism for some time. By those who know it is claimed there was little or no department among the inmates, all of which was traced to the kind of management the institution has had.

It is not likely that the Home will be closed but the public has a right to expect decent government and care for the little folks.

BARN DESTROYED SUNDAY NIGHT

A quantity of hay and corn was destroyed when fire levelled a barn on the Finley-Shaw farm, two and one-half miles west of Clifton on the Hill Road, Sunday night at 9:30.

The barn was struck by lightning during a heavy storm. The owner and neighbors fought the flames without success but saved other buildings from catching fire. There was no stock in the barn, which was a practically new structure.

Farm Insurance Continues To Grow

More than 17,000 Ohio farmers have been issued policies during the past year, and the total number issued has reached a total of more than 24,000 in less than two years time, it was reported last Thursday and Friday at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance Company. Representing this county in attendance at the meeting were L. E. Evans and William W. Anderson.

Approximately 250 farmer members and agents attended the meeting, as well as 45 County Farm Bureau office secretaries of Ohio. Stark, Wood, Mahoning, Columbiana, Lucas, Ashland, and Licking counties were high in the list of counties ranked by the number of policies issued.

Delegates from this county report that the record of policies issued since formation of the company, when it is considered that only Ohio farmers have been eligible, is thought to be a record in insurance growth.

The organization was formed early in 1926 as a mutual organization to serve farmers, whose automobile risks are less than those of the city or average automobile owner. At the request of farmers of Maryland and West Virginia the organization recently expanded to cover those states.

THE RUFFLED SCARF ADDS UTILITY TO THE PRETTINESS

THE inevitable scarf! Very little is being planned for spring in the way of fashionable attire which does not include the scarf. Perhaps the reason for this is that women today seek feminine charm in dress, and there is no single item of adornment which so effectively adds the "feminine touch" as a decorative scarf.

What with squares, oblongs, triangles and shawls effects having been exploited in their every phase of silk, sheer velvet, lace and chiffon, variously hand-painted, embroidered, knitted, knotted and beaded, likewise hemstitched, fringed or unfringed, it would seem as if there was "nothing new under the sun" in scarves. But there is! There's the ruffled scarf, for instance, which if not new to all of us, is at least new to many of us.

It is a case of "love at first sight" for these fully bits of colorful geometric or crepe de chine as you may please to choose. Aside from its prettiness, the ruffled scarf is designed for a two-fold purpose—to protect the inside of the coat collar at the same time that it shields the delicate frock from coming in contact with the heavy fur of one's wrap.

One may, of course, wear the scarf as any other scarf, simply throwing it loosely about the shoulders, but the ideal way is to tuck it to the inside of the coat so that the ruffles will peek out daintily from within each side of the front opening of the coat. The picture shows a ruffled scarf before and after wearing. The colorfulness of these scarves adds to their attractiveness as they "come in the loveliest of new tones and tints."

A very sheer chiffon scarf is shown to the left in this picture. It is there because any discussion of scarves is incomplete unless it at least refers to these dainty transparencies of chiffon which are so beloved and which old maid to grow in favor for the coming months. Some of the latest of these sheerest of sheer scarves take on the dimensions of huge square shawls, their exquisite flower designs and, if not florals, then modernistic patterns, hand-blocked or printed.

For daytime and sports wear, the newest thing is a wide scarf, oftenest in color or polka-dot, one for the neck and the other to be tied about the hips in gypsy girdle fashion.

WHEN PROMOTERS USE "CHARITY" TO DECOY TRUSTFUL CONTRIBUTORS

Investigations of Various Schemes for Defrauding Public
Out of Money Disclosed by Bankers Association—
Many Kinds of Fake Industrial Promotions Used as Bait.

MILLIONS of dollars raised under the disguise of charity go to line the pockets of promoters. Ticket sales on rallies are commonly used, and while the loss to any one person who buys a ticket is small the aggregate loss for the United States runs into millions of dollars.

Usually the promoters of these schemes first make a contract with some charitable institution to conduct a campaign for funds on behalf of the institution. They are to run the campaign in the name of the institution and share the proceeds. The whole scheme is often one of deception. To those who have been led to believe that their contributions go practically 100 per cent to charity, the following case we investigated should prove illuminating.

A number of promoters recently contracted with a charitable institution to put on a campaign to raise funds by the raffle of a new automobile. So far as the public could tell from the banners used in displaying the automobile, the full amount of the sale price of the tickets went to the institution. There was nothing to convey any other impression. Apparently it was open and above board and was being conducted by men who were contributing their time gratuitously.

For several days a new automobile, mounted on a truck, was driven up and down the streets, with banners telling about the drive for funds for the charitable institution. One day the truck would go by displaying one of the popular makes of automobiles. A few days later it would parade by displaying some other popular make. Periodically the truck would pull into the curb where it would park for several hours while the promoters pleaded with passersby to take tickets on the raffle and thereby help a deserving charitable institution to meet its bills.

Thousands "Touched"

Thousands of people, touched by the appeal for help, bought tickets, the total sale running into the thousands of dollars. Contrary to the belief of the ticket buyers their contributions did not go 100 per cent to charity. Instead the charitable institution received but 25 cents on the dollar, the promoters getting 75 cents on the dollar as their net profit, or twice the amount received by charity, while the remainder of 25 cents on each dollar represented the amount charged against gross sales by the promoters as expenses.

In other words, every person who bought a 50 cent ticket for the sake of charity, contributed but 13 cents to charity and 37 cents to those promoting the scheme. Whether you give to charity or make an investment it will pay you to get the facts!

Unfortunately there is a general impression abroad that wildcat promotions are confined to oil, mining and new inventions. The truth is, many stock selling promotions are operated under the name of other industries.

False Claims

A certain group of promoters investigated offered for sale stock in a proposed woolen mill. In order to sell the stock they resorted to the use of misrepresentation and false claims. After renting space on the ground floor of an office building, sitting in a busy street they began their campaign. Orally and by printed advertisements extravagant claims were made for the proposed corporation which were greatly false.

The "Charity" Drive

motors had not been connected with any mills for over twenty years and they had attempted at different times to promote mills, all of which had failed. One of the promoters represented that formerly he was president and general manager of one of the largest woolen mills in Canada. The fact was the mill referred to had gone into bankruptcy and he had been caretaker of the plant.

This story of misrepresentation can be duplicated in practically the whole industrial field, and because our industries are being exploited with industry to industry, it becomes every investor's duty to be extremely careful. He should not be lulled by the drawing of the money out and losing them on some wildcat investment.

Important Announcement to every owner of a Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said:

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long."

For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords—an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over.

The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost."

Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

TO HAVE FOR DINNER

Planning of three meals a day, as well as preparing them and clearing away the debris after each meal, is the work of at least twenty million housewives, year after year, in our own U. S. A. The mere washing dishes for a family of five amounts to two and one-half acres of dishes a year to handle over from shelf to table, from table to sink and back to the shelves. Monotonous! Yes, but the fact that she is doing this for the ones she loves best, makes the task a labor of love. Because of the sameness of her work, a vacation is a great necessity, even if it be taken a day at a time.

If one has plenty of means to provide varieties of food, the problem is not so great, but the vast majority of our American people must count the pennies and make them stretch as far as possible in buying food.

Chop Suey

Take two pounds either of pork or beef, with a little beef or chicken fat, onions cut into small pieces, three stalks of celery cut into bits, one can of bean sprouts, a half dozen Chinese water nuts or potatoes, two teaspoonsful of bean molasses, two teaspoonsful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper. Heat a little oil—two or three tablespoons in a frying pan, add the meat, brown and cook until nearly done, then add the vegetables, one cupful of beef stock, the seasonings and molasses. Cover and cook an hour, using great care to keep from scorching. Serve with boiled rice and soy sauce.

Spanish Toast

Cut up two green peppers, a slice of onion, two sprigs of parsley and add a cupful of thick tomato sauce. Simmer until smooth. Toast rounds of bread, butter and put a spoonful of the tomato mixture on each with a touched egg on top.

THE NEW SWEATERS INTERPRET HIGHLY MODERNISTIC DESIGN

THE new sweaters are just that—new in every sense of the word. There is no mistaking a sweater of this year's vintage. Modernistic motif and design, as well as color schemes such as are characteristic of the immediate moment, are marks which at once establish the identity of the sweater of 1933 origin.

Not only is the sweater a subject of vast importance on its own individual count, but its significance in the mode becomes paramount now that it has been elected to play so conspicuous a role in the ensemble for spring.

More and more the tendency in dress design is to revolve about the big central theme of establishing a definite relation between every detail of the costume. This is accomplished by harmony of color and design—of which Paris couturiers have long been aware, and which they so obviously are interpreting this season in the three-piece sweater sports ensemble. So artful are the new sweater colorings they combine with tones and tints of accompanying coats and jackets and skirts to form a perfect unit.

Among the new types sweaters in vogue are numerous. They range from pastel at the top to the very deepest shades at the bottom. Patchwork sweaters, too, are of the very new. They are either printed or interknit to look as if swatches of the jersey were actually seamed together in squares and cubes and oblong sections. The color-play in these leaves nothing for the imagination. Candy stripes in modest as well as bizarre colors are also featured.

Knit-lint sweaters are prominent in the spring mode. Not only are the metallic threads interknit but often there are touches of gold leather in applique and bindings and for belts.

As an example of modernism which asserts itself at a glance the sweater in the picture is a convincing object lesson. Its motif done in squares of several colors is indicative of the new trend of bold futuristic effects. The colors are very interesting for this model, being parchment, beige and chocolate brown, a combination which occurs again and again in the new ensemble. The sweater itself is of supple, tissue-weight jersey and it is worn with a beige crepe skirt. Of course it would be equally as effective with a skirt of tweed, tush or basketweave.

Aid For Gardeners In Pamphlet Form

Floriculturist of O. S. U. Compiles Lists of Plants Suitable For Home Grounds

Just digging up the soil and planting something therein, may satisfy the primitive urge which overtakes humanity about this time of the year, but it most often requires a little guidance to result in a real garden or lawn.

Such guidance is provided in a series of pamphlets and leaflets which have been prepared for free distribution by Prof. Victor H. Rice, Extension floriculturist of the Ohio State University. The leaflets contain a variety of information being principally lists of plants and shrubs suitable for Ohio home grounds, together with the characteristics of each plant.

One leaflet is "A Planting List of Trees, Shrubs, Vines and Evergreens for Home Beautification Demonstration," with a condensed description of "The Ten Best Plants for Home Beautification," it gives recommendations for 10 types of plants, listing the 10 best in each class. "Garden Flowers for Home Beautification" describes 25 annual garden flowers and 25 perennial garden flowers, with suggestions for their culture. "Plants for Beautifying Shady Places" is a specialized list, as the name indicates.
"The Pruning of Ornamental Trees, Shrubs and Vines" contains explicit instruction for this phase of the culture of plants about the home grounds.
In addition to these, there is available a list of books and bulletins treating of home beautification methods and practices.

Farmers Induced to Increase Corn Area

Will Also Plant More Potatoes,
Tobacco, and Other Crops
During Coming Years

While farmers, like other persons, have and exercise the right to change their minds, their intentions as to planting of 1928 crops are interesting and, according to C. R. Arnold, farm management specialist of the Ohio State University, very important.
Reports of the intention of 50,000 farmers in all parts of the United States, as expressed to the department of Agriculture on March 1, show that average of several important crops is to be increased this year over the acreage of last year.

Land devoted to corn in 1928 will show slight difference from last year's acreage, increasing in the United States by 2.8 per cent. In Ohio there will be an increase, it is indicated, of about 1 per cent over the acreage of corn actually harvested in 1927.

Potato-growers on March 1, said planned to plant 12 per cent more land to that crop for the United States, and Ohio growers were planning to increase their acreage by 20 per cent to 139,000 acres. The north central and south central states announced the plans for the heaviest increases in the potato crop. Far western states, in some cases, will reduce the acreage of potatoes.

Ohio tobacco growers plan an increase of 30 per cent in their acreage this year, it is indicated, and the United States as a whole proposes an increase of 16 per cent. The south-central states are planning the heaviest increase in tobacco, 32 per cent, most of it in Kentucky and Tennessee.

SCHOOLS GET HIGH RATING

Supt. C. E. Oxley was gratified this week when he received word that the local schools had been given first rating by the North Central Association.
This is the first time the local school has been "Unqualifiedly Recommended" by the association. Such a recommendation places the school in a class with the leading schools of the state.

THE MINSTREL SHOW

The Y. W. C. A. boys of the College staged a minstrel show in the opera house Wednesday night. The performance was up to the usual standard and gave the boys an opportunity to display their ability as black-faced artists. The songs were well rendered and the jokes, many of which were of more interest to the student body, went over big. The house was well filled and a net sum was realized.

Mr. W. Dwight Sterrett, son and daughter of East Cleveland have been spending the week with Mrs.
Julia Sterrett.

Miss Mable Knott, of Cleveland, has been visiting with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. Leo Anderson and wife. Miss Knott is a teacher in the Cleveland schools.
